[1] See Britt v. DeJoy, 45 F.4th 790, 798 (4th Cir. 2022) ("By now holding that an order dismissing a complaint without prejudice and without granting leave to amend is final, we anchor ourselves to precedent that balances the district court's position as master of its docket, this Court's supervisory authority, the need for clarity in assessing the finality of an order, and—ultimately—judicial efficiency."
